Dear Terry and Reed:

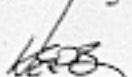

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you both for the excellent job you did on building my log cabin in Nevada.

Over the years I have dealt with many builders on all kinds of projects and I have never had anyone that displayed their expertise, integrity and willingness to work with me the way you did. As you both know this project was done mostly via the telephone with infrequent visits from me. I had to rely on you to work with and coordinate all subs, all suppliers, utility companies and anyone else who was involved in the building process, mostly the log cabin supplier.

Without your commitment to our relationship, chances are I still would not be finished today. Instead I have had many compliments on your work and of course the finished product.

Please feel free to use this letter as a recommendation for future clients and should anyone wish to call me to discuss your qualifications and integrity, please do not hesitate to give them my phone number or address. In closing, my sincere thanks to both of you for a job well done.

Best Regards,

Herb
